ONE FARM BUREAU

600 MEMBERS CO-OPERATE IN
CAPE GIRARDEAU COUNTY.

VALUABLE WORK DONE

In One Year the Adviser Has Completed Organization and Helped Men Increase Profits.

The farmers and business men of the towns of Cape Girardeau county believe that a county agricultural bureau under the direction of a farm adviser is one of the best money making propositions a community can have. They believe it because they have had one since April 1913, and in the fourteen months since then they have saved and made much more money than it costs to operate the bureau. H. J. Blanton writes the following about the work of the Cape Girardeau Agricultural Bureau:

C. M. McWilliams, manager of the 600 farms identified with the bureau, is an expert in animal husbandry and a graduate of the Agricultural College at Columbia. His hobby is organization, education, personal work, and publicity. There was not a farmer club in Cape Girardeau county when he went upon the field. Within a few weeks there were organizations in every township and a county bureau whose executive committee was composed of presidents of the local clubs. Each of the 600 members was impressed with the idea that the bureau would be a failure unless he cooperated with it by demonstrating the utility of better seeds, better seed beds and better methods of cultivation.

The season was the most unfavorable in recent years for the production of a crop, and yet a member of the bureau, G. W. Tisdale, carried off first honors in an acre corn-growing contest in competition with farmers in twenty-six other Southeast Missouri counties. The yield was ninety-nine bushels and the achievement was not only a triumph of intelligent effort over old time methods, but a practical demonstration of the possibilities of Cape Girardeau lands.

The fact that Tisdale had but 83 per cent of a stand proves that his prize acre would have yielded 117 bushels instead of 99 bushels, even in so unfavorable season, if every grain of seed corn he put into the earth had proven fertile.

It was to impress facts like these upon the average farmer that the bureau was organized. The business men of the larger towns had expended much time, money and effort upon the industrial development of that locality and to fine advantage. Statistics, showing the amount of capital invested and the amount of wages paid out as a result of these campaigns, were compiled. Everybody was satisfied with the policy that had been pursued until some hard-headed business man called attention to the tremendous prosperity and development the county would experience if every one of the county's 375,000 acres of fertile lands could be made to produce crops to the amount of $5 an acre above what they had been bringing in.

The grand total would be $1,875,000, an average increase of $600 upon each of the county's 2,800 farms, or an amount equal to more than $60 a year for every man, woman and child within its borders. If this could be done without additional expense to the farmer, through the simple process of organization, education and application, would it not be worth more to the people at large than any other enterprise in which they might become interested? It was a plain business proposition, a proposition so potent with possibilities in the form of dollars and cents, that an Agricultural Bureau was decided upon as its practical solution.

Vetch, a wonderful soiling and hay crop, is being introduced into the county through the combined efforts of the Farm Bureau and the department of Agronomy of the state normal. Vetch has many advantages over timothy, chief among which is its immunity to drought, its generous harvest and its ability to feed the soil from which it is taken. This is probably the only county in Missouri in which vetch is being grown for market. It makes better feed than timothy and, selling at about the same price a ton, brings the farmer much more revenue because of its larger returns to the acre.

Like other advisers or managers, McWilliams saved immense sums to his constituents during an epidemic of hog cholera. Without any charge for his services, he administered serum to 2500 animals. Ninety-five per cent of them were saved. Without this service, on a conservative estimate, three-fourths of this vast number of hogs would have died, and the effects upon the swine industry would have been felt for years.

A dozen columns would be required for a complete history of the achievements of the Cape Girardeau Agricultural Association. The above, however, will give a fair idea of its value to the farmer, merchant and professional man. It has conserved more wealth during its first year than its cost to the county would be in fifty years. It will add more wealth to the farms in its territory during the present year than its cost would be in a hundred years. It can produce facts and figures that would convince the most skeptical of its present utility and its future possibilities as a wealth maker for the merchant and the professional man as well as for the farmer.

35 CENTS WORTH OF FACTS.

That Amount Buys More Than Child Can Learn, Dr. G. D. Strayer Tells Normal Students.

"For thirty-five cents you can buy a book which will contain more facts than the teacher can get the child to remember during his whole school career, and yet the schools have tended to make fact teaching their principal business."

This statement was made by Dr. G. D. Strayer, professor of school administration in Columbia university of New York City, in an address to the Normal students this morning.

It was true, he said, that a part of the school's business was to teach facts, but the school ought to do a lot more than that. It should look after the health of the students. Many pupils are not able to do school work because they are hampered by diseases such as adenoids and enlarged tonsils. Poor physical surroundings at home also make it impossible for many pupils to carry on their school work with success.

Another thing which the school should do in addition to teaching mere facts, he said, is to prepare students to take part in real social life. This the speaker believed, could not be done by a teacher who did not understand social conditions herself. In order to remedy the lack of social knowledge on the part of the teachers he believed they should be given courses in sociology which would make them understand the social life of the time well enough to instruct people for its duties.

A great many of the practices of the school are carried on now simply through the force of tradition. We do a lot of things educationally just because our fathers or grandfathers did the same thing. He gave as an instance of such a practice the way our schools are graded at present. He said the traditional theory on which the grading was done was that all children of the same age were alike. Recent investigations, he said, had shown there are great differences between children of the same age in respect to abilities of all kinds. The grading should be so flexible that those who are exceptionally bright should not be held back for those who could not make rapid progress.

In view of the immense amount of money which was being spent for education, it was the speaker's opinion that the public had a right to demand greater efficiency. Teachers, he said, should have definite methods of testing the results of school work and should be able to know whether or not their work is efficient. It is his opinion that too much time is wasted in studying beautiful theories and that too few teachers really take off their coats as yet at the business of making school work efficient in earnest. Dr. Strayer will speak again at the Normal tomorrow morning.

MARYVILLE HAS IT.

A Chance to See Maryville as She Is Tuesday Night at the Empire.

Next Tuesday night at the Empire theater, "Maryville Has It," a movie film of Maryville affairs and people will be shown. The film has been made by the Kuchs-Marcell motion picture plant, and contains a thousand feet of reel, showing only the things distinctive of Maryville. The pictures are to be used later by the Commercial club in a plan for the boosting of Maryville and Nodaway county.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller, of Graham, spent Wednesday visiting friends in Maryville.

BRIDGES ARE OUT

ROAD WORK MAKES TRAVEL DANGEROUS JUST NOW.

WARNING TO DRIVERS

E. H. Balmum Says Culverts Crossed Once May Be Torn Out Before Return Trip Is Made.

Township Trustee E. H. Balmum, who is in charge of the permanent road work of Polk township, warns all persons driving along the roads, and particularly motorists, to be careful throughout the rest of the summer because of the road work.

From now on culverts and bridges will be torn out and rebuilt in all parts of the township. This work has been going on at the rate of ten a day, but as an extra bridge gang has been put to work the number will increase. For the greater part of the summer the condition of the bridges and culverts will be a changing one.

Mr. Balmum says that persons driving over a road early in the day must not take it for granted that it will be in the same condition when they return later. New culverts and bridges may be in and the approaches to these probably will be soft and dangerous to unwatchful drivers of vehicles. Often it is impossible to complete a bridge in one day, or the work may be started too late to finish.

Therefore the persons using the roads cannot be too careful, and as a warning against fatal accidents Mr. Balmum asks that they drive slowly at night, and in going down hill or around turns in the road.

BARNARD WILL HAVE PICNIC.

Business Men Decide to Hold Annual Affair Again This Year—Dates Are August 6-8.

Barnard will have a three-day picnic again this year. Some doubt had been felt as to whether the annual affair would be given this summer, but at a meeting of the business men last night it was decided to give the picnic as usual.

The only definite arrangements that are yet made for it are the dates. These will be the same as always, the first Thursday, Friday and Saturday in August, which come this year on the 6th, 7th and 8th. A committee will be appointed within the next day or two to take charge of the picnic preparations and make all the arrangements.

TRAINING SCHOOL PICNIC.

Normal Children Will Hold Exercises and Track Meet on Closing day Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning, after the chapel hour at the Normal, the training school children will give a short program just in front of the building. There will be a band and an Indian club drill by the school, after which they will sing "Americans Salute the Flag."

They will then parade to the Normal park, where the students will have a picnic. Every pupil in the training school will take some part in the track meet and base ball game which will be held.

Friday is the closing day of the training school. The scarlet fever scare in the winter caused the school to be closed, and that, together with half-day sessions this summer, made the term last until now.

Shenandoah Guests Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Andrews of Shenandoah arrived in Maryville Wednesday for a visit with Mr. Andrews' brother, E. L. Andrews, and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eversole.

Minneapolis Teacher Home.

Miss Bertha Ritzke, a teacher in the public schools of Minneapolis, has arrived in Maryville to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ritzke.

MUST GIVE BOND

SHERIFF SERVES PAPERS ON B. J. AUFFART TODAY.

SAY HEDGE IS UNCUT

Neighbors Also Complain of Filled Drainage Ditch—Case Will Come Before Circuit Court.

B. J. Auffart, who lives on the Fred Carr farm, south of Maryville, must come to Maryville and give bond for his appearance at the September term of circuit court to stand trial for refusing to cut his hedge fence and for obstructing the public road. The papers were served on him today by Sheriff Wallace, but he was not arrested. He will come to the city to-night to give bond.

The law requires that all hedge fences at the intersection of public roads be cut low enough that persons on either road can see the other one. According to the information filed against him by Prosecuting Attorney Wright, Mr. Auffart did not cut his hedge, and, in addition, several weeks ago he built a wire fence outside of the hedge fence. As the hedge fence was on the line, it made the wire fence stand in the road.

But this was not all. Mr. Auffart also graded the road in such a way as to fill the ditch at the side of the road and obstruct free and open drainage. When he did not remedy these conditions a complaint was made against him to Prosecuting Attorney G. P. Wright, with the result that he will have to appear before the circuit court for trial.

PREDICTS SHORT WHEAT CROP.

Henry Webber Says Yield Will Be About Half as Large as Last Year—Corn Is Good.

Henry Webber, a Nodaway county farmer, predicts a short wheat crop this year. This is due largely, he says, to the Hessian fly, although the season has been unfavorable in other ways, too.

"Where 75,000 bushels of wheat were shipped out a year ago there will be only 30,000 bushels this year," Mr. Webber says. However, he adds that the corn looks fine, better than the average; that a large acreage was planted and the stand is the best in years.

Mr. Webber also says that the live stock business is declining in this county. Because of the high price of corn, cattle feeding last fall, winter and spring was very light.

Farmers from other parts of the county say the Hessian fly did very little damage to their wheat. Many of them expect a forty-bushel yield. The average yield for the county is predicted at from twenty-five to thirty bushels. The acreage is larger than ever before.

The wheat harvest has been going on all week and about half of the grain is cut. Threshing has not started, so no definite reports can be had as to the yield.

All over the county the corn is in excellent condition and should yield a bumper crop, providing favorable weather conditions continue.

Property Owners Cut Their Weeds.

F. L. Flynt, city street commissioner, says that many property owners all over town have been cutting weeds and cleaning up their premises in the last two days, which the city had set aside as weed days. Although the city offered to provide laborers for this work, no one asked for such help.

Return From Elmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hansen and daughters, Beatrice and Wilhelmina, and Mrs. Kittle Atherton returned Tuesday evening from Elmo, where they went to attend the funeral services of John Kinman.

Mrs. Harry Gordon, of Denver, Col., is visiting in Maryville, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Harris.

TO BE SPECIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

Churches Will Honor International Sunday School Convention in Chicago.

Some Nodaway county persons are now in Chicago attending the fourteenth triennial international Sunday school convention, and the Maryville Sunday schools will hold special services next Sunday in honor of the convention. The pastors of the Presbyterian, Christian, Baptist and Buchanan Street Methodist churches will preach sermons on the work of the Sunday school associations.

The pulpit of the First M. E. church will be filled that day by the Rev. George P. Burges of Stanberry, who will exchange with the Rev. Gilbert S. Cox.

Miss Elizabeth Evans of Maryville is attending the convention as the delegate from the Nodaway County Sunday School association. The Rev. S. F. Spainhower, pastor of Palestine church, is there, and so is Mrs. Katherine McNaul of Maitland.

Five thousand delegates are attending the Chicago convention this week in addition to other visitors. The Medinah temple, where the meetings are being held, is crowded to its full capacity of 6,000. The speakers come from Asia, Europe and all parts of the American continent. Saturday a parade, in which 50,000 persons are expected to march, will pass through the streets of the loop district.

Among the more important topics which the convention is discussing are national and state prohibition, the relationship of the Sunday school to the public school and the Sunday school's responsibility to foreign speaking peoples.

COMPANY F PREPARES FOR CAMP.

Arch Ledgerwood Is Elected Second Lieutenant—New Men Recruited.

Company F is preparing for the annual summer encampment of the Missouri National Guard at Nevada, Mo. Last night at a company meeting Arch Ledgerwood was elected second lieutenant. Three new recruits joined the company.

This brings the company's strength to seventy-one men, Lieutenant Loren DeMotte, commander of the company, says. He wants to get as many more men to take with him to the encampment July 12 to 18, as possible. Sixty is the least number of men he will take, but he wants to recruit the company to as near war strength—128 men—as he can.

The men receive pay during the time they are in encampment. The scale runs: First sergeant, $12 a week; quartermaster sergeant, $10.50; sergeants, $8; corporals, $5.60; privates, $4. Cooks receive $8 a week. The company will leave Maryville for Nevada Saturday, July 11.

Mrs. Aldrich Died Friday at Kearney, Neb., After Long Illness.

Word has been received in Maryville of the death of Mrs. Aldridge, the mother of Mrs. W. J. Hutton, who died Friday at the Hutton home at Kearney, Neb. The Huttons moved from Maryville to Kearney Sunday, June 14. At this time Mrs. Aldridge, who had been in St. Francis hospital several weeks, was sufficiently improved to be taken to Kearney. She had been in poor health for months.

The body was taken to Atlantic, Ia., the old home place, for burial.

A PLACE TO SWIM

THOUSANDS LEARN ART

Association Natatorium Here Would Remedy Maryville's Disadvantage of Being an Inland Town.

The city of St. Louis is having a great swimming lesson this summer. The St. Louis Republic is conducting a "Safety-First—Learn to Swim" campaign, and with the co-operation of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. is giving free swimming lessons to every boy and girl in the city between the ages of 11 and 16.

Believing that swimming is an invaluable art, it began its campaign at first for boys only. On the first morning that the pool in the Central Y. M. C. A. building was opened more than 400 boys were waiting to take their first lesson. The instructors, experienced men, say that more than half of them can learn to swim in six lessons.

Then some mother wrote a letter to the Republic asking if some similar plan could not be arranged to teach the girls to swim. Immediately the Y. W. C. A. offered its pool, suits and instructors for this purpose. The good which will come from this work in St. Louis is inestimable, for no one can tell how many of these boys and girls are being saved from death themselves, or how many persons they may save in future years.

This is just one example of what a Y. M. C. A. can help do for a community. For several years a national committee of the Y. M. C. A. has employed an expert swimming teacher to go around to the associations in the different cities and towns and give lessons. This one man has taught more than 20,000 persons to swim.

From this one standpoint alone how valuable a Y. M. C. A. would be here. It would furnish an opportunity, now lacking, for every child in Maryville to learn to swim. And the sooner the younger children learn to swim the better. In regard to this fact the Republic says:

"Many kinds of animals swim naturally. That is because they are not scared when they touch water. Some human animals become panicky the moment they lie prone in water with a swimming bag under the chest. This is the penalty of imagination, a quality not possessed by dogs and horses. Consequently it behooves the human animal to begin swimming early, before his imagination is so highly developed that it will populate the water with terrors."

With the fear of water unknown or overcome half the danger is gone. The child that learns to swim at an early age does not know fear of water, and swimming is the only thing that will overcome the fear that other persons have. Once the art is learned it is a safe, healthful and very pleasurable pastime.

But that is not the only reason that would make a Y. M. C. A. with its swimming pool valuable to Maryville. Maryville's greatest disadvantage is in being an inland town, a town without a watering place, for a watering place affords the cheapest and best amusement that can be had.

At present if anyone in town wants to swim he has to go to muddy pools in the 102 river, which, like as not, will be too low to swim in. Then, the river is far from town and hard to get to. If one has to walk the benefits of a swim are lost in the walk back to town.

A Y. M. C. A. would do away with this. It would be in the very heart of town, and the water in the pool would be clean. The pool would not have any holes or treacherous currents in it, and someone would be there to watch after the swimmers' safety.

It would furnish a place where boys and men could go without trouble and with practically no expense and satisfy a want that they have always longed for—a good, clean swim.

Rev. Henry Sawyers of Savannah arrived in Maryville Wednesday night to visit his brother, John K. Sawyers, and family.

Mrs. S. E. Slaters and Mrs. Mary Hosick of Skidmore spent Thursday visiting friends in Maryville.

GAME WARDEN WAS HERE.

C. R. Cortner, deputy state game warden, was in Maryville yesterday investigating some complaints that had been made to him in regard to the breaking of the state game laws.

The particular complaints were that foxes and wolves were being captured and killed out of season. The law limits the season for these animals from November 1 to December 31 and from January 1 to February 1 of each year. However, persons may protect their land and stock against these animals.

Mr. Cortner also investigated the waterworks dam in regard to the building of a fish ladder to allow the free passage of fish up and down the river. Such a ladder was not built when the dam was first put up, and the board of public works has not had time to see to its construction since then.

ARSENIC FOUND IN FOODS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture Gives List of Some Firms That Shipped Adulterated Products.

The accidental presence of arsenic in jelly, candy and chocolate and of lead in cream tartar, has caused one corporation to be fined $100 and three corporations to be fined $50 each for the shipment of such adulterated products in interstate commerce. In every case the arsenic and lead appear to have found their way into the products through either ignorance or carelessness on the part of the manufacturer.

According to a recent announcement of the U. S. department of agriculture the Williams Bros. Co. of Detroit, Mich., has been fined $100 for sending four brands of adulterated jelly into Missouri.

The Catawba Candy Co. of Sandusky, O., was also fined $50 and costs for sending out quantities of "Italian cream," and "iced squares" which contained arsenic in either the candy or coating, or both.

Leo Benjamin of New York City, according to the announcement, was fined $50 for shipping into Pennsylvania "chocolate cremolin" which contained arsenic.

The Pan Chemical Co. of New York City was fined $50 for shipping a quantity of adulterated cream tartar which contained lead.

The Sen-Sen Chiclet Co. was fined $25 and costs for shipping misbranded chewing gum from Ohio into Illinois. The shipment of adulterated and misbranded mince meat in interstate commerce has brought three fines of $25 each and costs to the W. H. Marvin Co., Urbana, O. The "mince meat" contained nothing more than a trace of meat.

The Ohio Spice and Extract Co. was fined $25 and costs for shipping adulterated and misbranded mace into Missouri.

COUNTY PAVES COUNTRY ROADS.

Ohio Rural District Has 400 Miles of Brick Streets and Will Build 60 More.

Cuyahoga county, Ohio, will add sixty miles of rural brick road to its 400 miles of similar pavement, according to the 1914 road improvement plans announced by County Engineer Stinchcomb, thus strengthening its distinction of being the best paved rural district of any similar area in the world.

A minimum width of sixteen feet has been adopted for roads to be laid during the coming summer and the entire expenditure, including fills, bridges, etc., will be somewhat in excess of $900,000.

The adaptability of brick to rural roads was first proved in Cuyahoga county, and the policy of building for permanence was adopted here even before automobile traffic drove other localities to copy similar construction. Cuyahoga county has expended more than eight million dollars in this type of road, and the repair bills have amounted to practically nothing.

A perfect system of radiating highways now extend to the county line in every direction, and the task which Engineer Stinchcomb has outlined is that of connecting these main arteries with suitable cross roads.

In spite of the cost the county is money ahead, according to county officials, for the increase in taxable rural land values has yielded more than the total cost in revenue. Cleveland, with 600 miles of brick paved city streets, will pave about eighty miles of streets this year, including the repaving of some of its main highways.

APOLOGIZE TO PRESIDENT

Golfer "Cusses" Wilson When His Drive Grazes Player's Ear.

Washington, June 25.—The story of how President Wilson, golfing on a local green, sent a ball whizzing near another golfer's head and how the other fellow roundly "cussed" the president of the United States and then in confusion and chagrin made profuse apologies, had a sequel when President Wilson and the other golfer exchanged letters, one an abject apology and the other an acknowledgment, coupled with a firm declaration from the president that he was within his rights under the rules of the game.

Managers of the club were expecting to take some action against the "cussing" member when he wrote his apology. Local golf clubs compete keenly for the president's game on the greens; he probably will not visit one of them again.

FOUR DYNAMITERS FREED

President Commutes Sentences of Painter, Hannon, Mooney and Shupe.

Washington, June 25.—President Wilson commuted to expire at once the sentences imposed on Michael J. Hannon of Scranton, Pa.; Frank H. Painter of Omaha, Neb.; Fred J. Mooney of Duluth, Minn., and William Shupe of Chicago, all convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" cases.

The other twenty defendants, including President Frank Ryan and other leaders, must serve their sentences in Leavenworth penitentiary. Clemency for John H. Barry and Paul J. Norris, both of St. Louis, was withheld, while they have opportunity to submit separate petitions.

Hannon had been sentenced to three years, Painter to two, Mooney and Shupe each got a year and a day. Barry got four years and Norris three.

It is said that the president followed closely the recommendations of Attorney General McReynolds.

The marriage of Miss Eunice Maude Bent, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Bent, to Mr. James Claud Baird took place Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 416 West Fourth street. The ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Robert L. Finch, pastor of the First Christian church. While the vows were spoken the bride and groom stood before a window in the living room, which had been converted into a floral background, with smilax and ferns and clusters of pink and white carnations, tied with lover's knots of white ribbons. Miss Lennis Blake of Grant City played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride wore a wedding gown of white brocade crepe, fashioned en traine, the bodice finished with exquisite lace and pearl trimmings and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. Her only jewel was the groom's gift, a lavalliere with diamond pendant, set in platinum. After the ceremony a three-course luncheon was served. The dining table was centered with the bride's cake, and the four corners held crystal baskets filled with white snapdragons. Broad white ribbons were drawn from the electrolier to the four corners, where they were secured with bunches of white carnations and ferns. The places were marked with cards, hand painted with design of valley lilies. Miss Bent, Miss Kathleen Wells, Miss Fay Herndon and Miss Enid Patterson of Augusta, Mo., assisted in the dining room. ONE FARM BUREAU

CAPE GIRARDEAU COUNTY.

The farmers and business men of the towns of Cape Girardeau county believe that a county agricultural bureau under the direction of a farm adviser is one of the best money making propositions a community can have. They believe it because they have had one since April 1913, and in the fourteen months since then they have saved and made much more money than it costs to operate the bureau. H. J. Blanton writes the following about the work of the Cape Girardeau Agricultural Bureau:

C. M. McWilliams, manager of the 600 farms identified with the bureau, is an expert in animal husbandry and a graduate of the Agricultural College at Columbia. His hobby is organization, education, personal work, and publicity. There was not a farmer club in Cape Girardeau county when he went upon the field. Within a few weeks there were organizations in every town ship and a county bureau whose executive committee was composed of presidents of the local clubs. Each of the 600 members was impressed with the idea that the bureau would be a failure unless he cooperated with it by demonstrating the utility of better seeds, better seed beds and better methods of cultivation.

The season was the most unfavorable in recent years for the production of a crop, and yet a member of the bureau, G. W. Tisdale, carried off first honors in an acre corn-growing contest in competition with farmers in twenty-six other Southeast Missouri counties. The yield was ninety-nine bushels and the achievement was not only a triumph of intelligent effort over old time methods, but a practical demonstration of the possibilities of Cape Girardeau lands.

The fact that Tisdale had but 83 per cent of a stand proves that his prize acre would have yielded 117 bushels instead of 99 bushels, even in so unfavorable season, if every grain of seed corn he put into the earth had proven fertile.

It was to impress facts like these upon the average farmer that the bureau was organized. The business men of the larger towns had expended much time, money and effort upon the industrial development of that locality and to fine advantage. Statisticians, showing the amount of capital invested and the amount of wages paid out as a result of these campaigns, were compelled. Everybody was satisfied with the policy that had been pursued until some hard-headed business man called attention to the tremendous prosperity and development the county would experience if every one of the county's 375,000 acres of fertile lands could be made to produce crops to the amount of $5 an acre above what they had been bringing in.

The grand total would be $1,875,000, an average increase of $600 upon each of the county's 2,800 farms, or an amount equal to more than $60 a year for every man, woman and child within its borders. If this could be done without additional expense to the farmer, through the simple process of organization, education and application, would it not be worth more to the people at large than any other enterprise in which they might become interested? It was a plain business proposition, a proposition so potent with possibilities in the form of dollars and cents, that an Agricultural Bureau was decided upon as its practical solution.

Vetch, a wonderful soiling and hay crop, is being introduced into the county through the combined efforts of the Farm Bureau and the department of Agronomy of the state normal. Vetch has many advantages over timothy, chief among which is its immunity to drought, its generous harvest and its ability to feed the soil from which it is taken. This is probably the only county in Missouri in which vetch is being grown for market. It makes better feed than timothy and, selling at about the same price a ton, brings the farmer much more revenue because of its larger returns to the acre. Like other advisers or managers, McWilliams saved immense sums to his constituents during an epidemic of hog cholera. Without any charge for his services, he administered serum to 2500 animals. Ninety-five per cent of them were saved. Without this service, on a conservative estimate, three-fourths of this vast number of hogs would have died, and the effects upon the swine industry would have been felt for years.

A dozen columns would be required for a complete history of the achievements of the Cape Girardeau Agricultural Association. The above, however, will give a fair idea of its value to the farmer, merchant and professional man. It has conserved more wealth during its first year than its cost to the county would be in fifty years. It will add more wealth to the farms in its territory during the present year than its cost would be in a hundred years. It can produce facts and figures that would convince the most skeptical of its present utility and its future possibilities as a wealth maker for the merchant and the professional man as well as for the farmer

That Amount Buys More Than Child Can Learn, Dr. G. D. Strayer Tells Normal Students.

"For thirty-five cents you can buy a book which will contain more facts than the teacher can get the child to remember during his whole school career, and yet the schools have tended to make fact teaching their principal business."

This statement was made by Dr. G. D. Strayer, professor of school administration in Columbia university of New York City, in an address to the Normal students this morning.

It was true, he said, that a part of the school's business was to teach facts, but the school ought to do a lot more than that. It should look after the health of the students. Many pupils are not able to do school work because they are hampered by diseases such as adenoids and enlarged tonsils. Poor physical surroundings at home also make it impossible for many pupils to carry on their school work with success.

Another thing which the school should do in addition to teaching mere facts, he said, is to prepare students to take part in real social life. This the speaker believed, could not be done by a teacher who did not understand social conditions herself. In order to remedy the lack of social knowledge on the part of the teachers he believed they should be given courses in sociology which would make them understand the social life of the time well enough to instruct people for its duties.

A great many of the practices of the school are carried on now simply through the force of tradition. We do a lot of things educationally just because our fathers or grandfathers did the same thing. He gave as an instance of such a practice the way our schools are graded at present. He said the traditional theory on which the grading was done was that all children of the same age were alike. Recent investigations, he said, had shown there are great differences between children of the same age in respect to abilities of all kinds. The grading should be so flexible that those who are exceptionally bright should not be held back for those who could not make rapid progress.

In view of the immense amount of money which was being spent for education, it was the speaker's opinion that the public had a right to demand greater efficiency. Teachers, he said, should have definite methods of testing the results of school work and should be able to know whether or not their work is efficient. It is his opinion that too much time is wasted in studying beautiful theories and that too few teachers really take off their coats as yet at the business of making school work efficient in earnest.

Dr. Strayer will speak again at the Normal tomorrow morning.

MARYVILLE HAS IT.

A Chance to See Maryville as She is Tuesday Night at the Empire.

Next Tuesday night at the Empire theater, "Maryville Has It," a movie film of Maryville affairs and people will be shown. The film has been made by the Kuchs-Marcell motion picture plant, and contains a thousand feet of reel, showing only the things distinctive of Maryville. The pictures are to be used later by the Commercial club in a plan for the boosting of Maryville and Nodaway county.

BRIDGES ARE OUT

ROAD WORK MAKES TRAVEL DANGEROUS JUST NOW.

E. H. Bainum Says Culverts Crossed Once May Be Torn Out Before Return Trip Is Made.

Township Trustee E. H. Bainum, who is in charge of the permanent road work of Polk township, warns all persons driving along the roads, and particularly motorists, to be careful throughout the rest of the summer because of the road work.

From now on culverts and bridges will be torn out and rebuilt in all parts of the township. This work has been going on at the rate of ten a day, but as an extra bridge gang has been put to work the number will increase. For the greater part of the summer the condition of the bridges and culverts will be a changing one.

Mr. Bainum says that persons driving over a road early in the day must not take it for granted that it will be in the same condition when they return later. New culverts and bridges may be in and the approaches to these probably will be soft and dangerous to unwatchful drivers of vehicles. Often it is impossible to complete a bridge in one day, or the work may be started too late to finish.

Therefore the persons using the roads cannot be too careful, and as a warning against fatal accidents Mr. Bainum asks that they drive slowly at night, and in going down hill or around turns in the road.

BARNARD WILL HAVE PICNIC.

Business Men Decide to Hold Annual Affair Again This Year—Dates Are August 6-8.

Barnard will have a three-day picnic again this year. Some doubt had been felt as to whether the annual affair would be given this summer, but at a meeting of the business men last night it was decided to give the picnic as usual.

The only definite arrangements that are yet made for it are the dates. These will be the same as always, the first Thursday, Friday and Saturday in August, which come this year on the 6th, 7th and 8th. A committee will be appointed within the next day or two to take charge of the picnic preparations and make all the arrangements.

TRAINING SCHOOL PICNIC.

Normal Children Will Hold Exercises and Track Meet on Closing Day Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning, after the chapel hour at the Normal, the training school children will give a short program just in front of the building. There will be a band and an Indian club drill by the school, after which they will sing "Americans Salute the Flag."

They will then parade to the Normal park, where the students will have a picnic. Every pupil in the training school will take some part in the track meet and base ball game which will be held.

Friday is the closing day of the training school. The scarlet fever scare in the winter caused the school to be closed, and that, together with half-day sessions this summer, made the term last until now.

MUST GIVE BOND

SHERIFF SERVES PAPERS ON B. J. AUFFART TODAY.

SAY HEDGE IS UNCUT

B. J. Auffart, who lives on the Fred Carr farm, south of Maryville, must come to Maryville and give bond for his appearance at the September term of circuit court to stand trial for refusing to cut his hedge fence and for obstructing the public road. The papers were served on him today by Sheriff Wallace, but he was not arrested. He will come to the city tonight to give bond.

The law requires that all hedge fences at the intersection of public roads be cut low enough that persons on either road can see the other one. According to the information filed against him by Prosecuting Attorney Wright, Mr. Auffart did not cut his hedge, and, in addition, several weeks ago he built a wire fence outside of the hedge fence. As the hedge fence was on the line, it made the wire fence stand in the road.

But this was not all. Mr. Auffart also graded the road in such a way as to fill the ditch at the side of the road and obstruct free and open drainage. When he did not remedy these conditions a complaint was made against him to Prosecuting Attorney G. P. Wright, with the result that he will have to appear before the circuit court for trial.

PREDICTS SHORT WHEAT CROP.

Henry Webber Says Yield Will Be About Half as Large as Last Year—Corn Is Good.

Henry Webber, a Nodaway county farmer, predicts a short wheat crop this year. This is due largely, he says, to the Hessian fly, although the season has been unfavorable in other ways, too.

"Where 75,000 bushels of wheat were shipped out a year ago there will be only 30,000 bushels this year," Mr. Webber says. However, he adds that the corn looks fine, better than the average; that a large acreage was planted and the stand is the best in years.

Mr. Webber also says that the live stock business is declining in this county. Because of the high price of corn, cattle feeding last fall, winter and spring was very light.

Farmers from other parts of the county say the Hessian fly did very little damage to their wheat. Many of them expect a forty-bushel yield. The average yield for the county is predicted at from twenty-five to thirty bushels. The acreage is larger than ever before.

The wheat harvest has been going on all week and about half of the grain is cut. Threshing has not started, so no definite reports can be had as to the yield.

All over the county the corn is in excellent condition and should yield a bumper crop, providing favorable weather conditions continue.

Property Owners Cut Their Weeds.

F. L. Flynt, city street commissioner, says that many property owners all over town have been cutting weeds and cleaning up their premises in the last two days, which the city had set aside as weed days. Although the city offered to provide laborers for this work, no one asked for such help.

Return From Elmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hansen and daughters, Beatrice and Wilhelmina, and Mrs. Kittie Atherton returned Tuesday evening from Elmo, where they went to attend the funeral services of John Kinman.

TO BE SPECIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

Churches Will Honor International Sunday School Convention in Chicago.

Some Nodaway county persons are now in Chicago attending the fourteenth triennial International Sunday school convention, and the Maryville Sunday schools will hold special services next Sunday in honor of the convention. The pastors of the Presbyterian, Christian, Baptist and Buchanan Street Methodist churches will preach sermons on the work of the Sunday school associations.

The pulpit of the First M. E. church will be filled that day by the Rev. George P. Burges of Stanberry, who will exchange with the Rev. Gilbert S. Cox.

Miss Elizabeth Evans of Maryville is attending the convention as the delegate from the Nodaway County Sunday School association. The Rev. S. F. Spainhower, pastor of Palestine church, is there, and so is Mrs. Katherine McNaul of Maitland.

Five thousand delegates are attending the Chicago convention this week in addition to other visitors. The Medina temple, where the meetings are being held, is crowded to its full capacity of 6,000. The speakers come from Asia, Europe and all parts of the American continent. Saturday a parade, in which 50,000 persons are expected to march, will pass through the streets of the loop district.

Among the more important topics which the convention is discussing are national and state prohibition, the relationship of the Sunday school to the public school and the Sunday school's responsibility to foreign speaking peoples.

COMPANY F PREPARES FOR CAMP.

Arch Ledgerwood Is Elected Second Lieutenant—New Men Recruited.

Company F is preparing for the annual summer encampment of the Missouri National Guard at Nevada, Mo. Last night at a company meeting Arch Ledgerwood was elected second lieutenant. Three new recruits joined the company.

This brings the company's strength to seventy-one men, Lieutenant Loren DeMotte, commander of the company, says. He wants to get as many more men to take with him to the encampment July 12 to 18, as possible. Sixty is the least number of men he will take, but he wants to recruit the company to as near war strength—128 men—as he can.

The men receive pay during the time they are in encampment. The scale runs: First sergeant, $12 a week; quartermaster sergeant, $10.50; sergeants, $8; corporals, $5.60; privates, $4. Cooks receive $8 a week.

The company will leave Maryville for Nevada Saturday, July 11.

The Huttons moved from Maryville to Kearney Sunday, June 14. At this time Mrs. Aldridge, who had been in St. Francis hospital several weeks, was sufficiently improved to be taken to Kearney. She had been in poor health for months.

The body was taken to Atlantic, Ia., the old home place, for burial.

A PLACE TO SWIM

THOUSANDS LEARN ART

The city of St. Louis is having a great swimming lesson this summer. The St. Louis Republic is conducting a "Safety-First—Learn to Swim" campaign, and with the co-operation of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. is giving free swimming lessons to every boy and girl in the city between the ages of 11 and 16.

Believing that swimming is an invaluable art, it began its campaign—at first for boys only. On the first morning that the pool in the Central Y. M. C. A. building was opened more than 400 boys were waiting to take their first lesson. The instructors, experienced men, say that more than half of them can learn to swim in six lessons.

Then some mother wrote a letter to the Republic asking if some similar plan could not be arranged to teach the girls to swim. Immediately the Y. W. C. A. offered its pool, suits and instructors for this purpose. The good which will come from this work in St. Louis is inestimable, for no one can tell how many of these boys and girls are being saved from death themselves, or how many persons they may save in future years.

This is just one example of what a Y. M. C. A. can help do for a community. For several years a national committee of the Y. M. C. A. has employed an expert swimming teacher to go around to the associations in the different cities and towns and give lessons. This one man has taught more than 20,000 persons to swim.

From this one standpoint alone how valuable a Y. M. C. A. would be here. It would furnish an opportunity, now lacking, for every child in Maryville to learn to swim. And the sooner the younger children learn to swim the better. In regard to this fact the Republic says:

"Many kinds of animals swim naturally. That is because they are not scared when they touch water. Some human animals become panicky the moment they lie prone in water with a swimming bag under the chest. This is the penalty of imagination, a quality not possessed by dogs and horses. Consequently it behooves the human animal to begin swimming early, before his imagination is so highly developed that it will populate the water with terrors."

With the fear of water unknown or overcome half the danger is gone. The child that learns to swim at an early age does not know fear of water, and swimming is the only thing that will overcome the fear that other persons have. Once the art is learned it is a safe, healthful and very pleasurable pastime.

But that is not the only reason that would make a Y. M. C. A. with its swimming pool valuable to Maryville. Maryville's greatest disadvantage is in being an inland town, a town without a watering place, for a watering place affords the cheapest and best amusement that can be had.

At present if anyone in town wants to swim he has to go to muddy pools in the 102 river, which, like a net, will be too low to swim in. Then, the river is far from town and hard to get to. If one has to walk the benefits of a swim are lost in the walk back to town.

A Y. M. C. A. would do away with this. It would be in the very heart of town, and the water in the pool would be clean. The pool would not have any holes or treacherous currents in it, and someone would be there to watch after the swimmers' safety.

It would furnish a place where boys and men could go without trouble and with practically no expense and satisfy a want that they have always longed for—a good, clean swim.

Mrs. S. E. Slates and Mrs. Mary Hosick of Skidmore spent Thursday visiting friends in Maryville.

GAME WARDEN WAS HERE.

C. R. Cortner, deputy state game warden, was in Maryville yesterday investigating some complaints that had been made to him in regard to the breaking of the state game laws.

The particular complaints were that foxes and wolves were being captured and killed out of season. The law limits the season for these animals from November 1 to December 31 and from January 1 to February 1 of each year. However, persons may protect their land and stock against these animals.

Mr. Cortner also investigated the waterworks dam in regard to the building of a fish ladder to allow the free passage of fish up and down the river. Such a ladder was not built when the dam was first put up, and the board of public works has not had time to see to its construction since then.

ARSENIC FOUND IN FOODS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture Gives List of Some Firms That Shipped Adulterated Products.

The accidental presence of arsenic in jelly, candy and chocolate and of lead in cream tartar, has caused one corporation to be fined $100 and three corporations to be fined $50 each for the shipment of such adulterated products in interstate commerce. In every case the arsenic and lead appear to have found their way into the products through either ignorance or carelessness on the part of the manufacturer.

According to a recent announcement of the U. S. department of agriculture the Williams Bros. Co. of Detroit, Mich., has been fined $100 for sending four brands of adulterated jelly into Missouri.

The Catawba Candy Co. of Sandusky, O., was also fined $50 and costs for sending out quantities of "Italian cream," and "iced squares" which contained arsenic in either the candy or coating, or both.

Leo Benjamin of New York City, according to the announcement, was fined $50 for shipping into Pennsylvania "chocolate cremolin" which contained arsenic.

The Pan Chemical Co. of New York City was fined $50 for shipping a quantity of adulterated cream tartar which contained lead.

The Sen-Sen Chiclet Co. was fined $25 and costs for shipping misbranded chewing gum from Ohio into Illinois. The shipment of adulterated and misbranded mince meat in interstate commerce has brought three fines of $25 each and costs to the W. H. Marvin Co., Urbana, O. The "mince meat" contained nothing more than a trace of meat.

fined $25 and costs for shipping adulterated and misbranded mace into Missouri.

COUNTY PAVES COUNTRY ROADS.

Ohio Rural District Has 400 Miles of Brick Streets and Will Build 60 More.

Cuyahoga county, Ohio, will add sixty miles of rural brick road to its 400 miles of similar pavement, according to the 1914 road improvement plans announced by County Engineer Stinchcomb, thus strengthening its distinction of being the best paved rural district of any similar area in the world.

A minimum width of sixteen feet has been adopted for roads to be laid during the coming summer and the entire expenditure, including fills, bridges, etc., will be somewhat in excess of $900,000.

The adaptability of brick to rural roads was first proved in Cuyahoga county, and the policy of building for permanence was adopted here even before automobile traffic drove other localities to copy similar construction. Cuyahoga county has expended more than eight million dollars in this type of road, and the repair bills have amounted to practically nothing.

A perfect system of radiating highways now extend to the county line in every direction, and the task which Engineer Stinchcomb has outlined is that of connecting these main arteries with suitable cross roads.

In spite of the cost the county is money ahead, according to county officials, for the increase in taxable rural land values has yielded more than the total cost in revenue. Cleveland, with 600 miles of brick paved city streets, will pave about eighty miles of streets this year, including the repaving of some of its main highways.

Golfer "Cusses" Wilson When His Drive Crashes Player's Ear.

Washington, June 25.—The story of how President Wilson, golfing on a local green, sent a ball whizzing near another golfer's head and how the other fellow roundly "cussed" the president of the United States and then in confusion and chagrin made profuse apologies, had a sequel when President Wilson and the other golfer exchanged letters, one an abject apology and the other an acknowledgment, coupled with a firm declaration from the president that he was within his rights under the rules of the game.

Managers of the club were expecting to take some action against the "cussing" member when he wrote his apology. Local golf clubs compete keenly for the president's game on the greens; he probably will not visit one of them again.

FOUR DYNAMITERS FREED

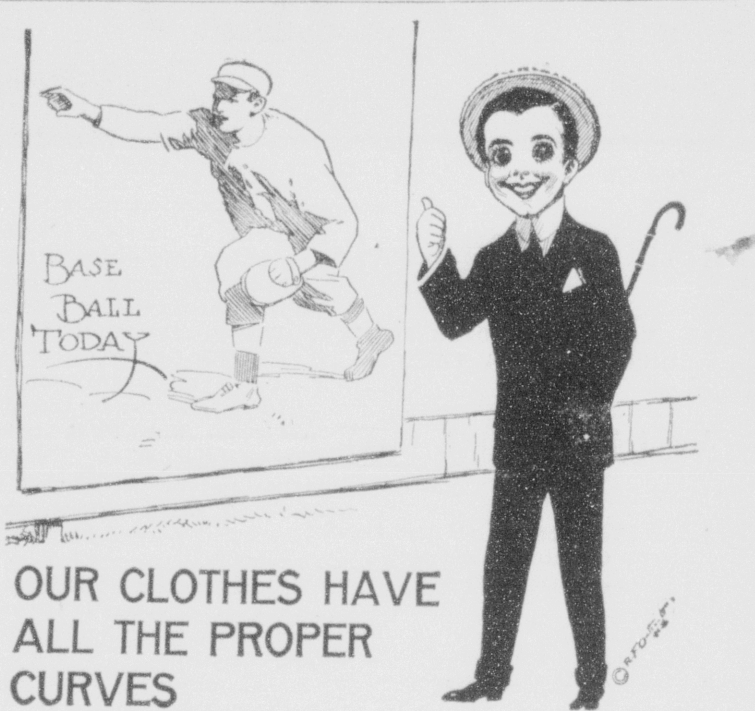

President Commutes Sentences of Painter, Hannon, Mooney and Shupe.

Washington, June 25.—President Wilson commuted to expire at once the sentences imposed on Michael J. Hannon of Scranton, Pa.; Frank H. Painter of Omaha, Neb.; Fred J. Mooney of Duluth, Minn., and William Shupe of Chicago, all convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy" cases.

The other twenty defendants, including President Frank Ryan and other leaders, must serve their sentences in Leavenworth penitentiary. Clemency for John H. Barry and Paul J. Norris, both of St. Louis, was withheld, while they have opportunity to submit separate petitions.

Hannon had been sentenced to three years, Painter to two, Mooney and Shupe each got a year and a day. Barry got four years and Norris three.

It is said that the president followed closely the recommendations of Attorney General McReynolds.

The marriage of Miss Eunice Maude Bent, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Bent, to Mr. James Claud Baird took place Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 416 West Fourth street. The ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Robert L. Finch, pastor of the First Christian church. While the vows were spoken the bride and groom stood before a window in the living room, which had been converted into a floral background, with smilax and ferns and clusters of pink and white carnations, tied with lover's knots of white ribbons. Miss Lennis Blake of Grant City played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride wore a wedding gown of white brocade crepe, fashioned en traine, the bodice finished with exquisite lace and pearl trimmings and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. Her only jewel was the groom's gift, a lavalliere with diamond pendant, set in platinum. After the ceremony a three-course luncheon was served. The dining table was centered with the bride's cake, and the four corners held crystal baskets filled with white snapdragons. Broad white ribbons were drawn from the electrolite to the four corners, where they were secured with bunches of white carnations and ferns. The places were marked with cards, hand painted with design of valley lilies.
